Claim Status Transactions Over NHIN Using CORE Connectivity

CAQH Committee on Operating Rules for Information
Exchange (CORE), Community Health Information
Collaborative (CHIC), and Noridian

This CAQH CORE, Noridian, CHIC HIE-Bridge and ApeniMED (formerly known as MEDNET) interoperability demonstration shows how healthcare administration is simplified through collaboration and alignment with national initiatives. Building on last year's demonstration in which CORE and CMS's Medicaid IT Architecture (MITA) collaborated to demonstrate eligibility transactions (270/271) using the CORE Eligibility and Connectivity Rules transmitted from an HIE to multiple Medicaid systems over the Nationwide Health Information Network, this year the collaboration continues to show claim status transactions (276/277) from CHIC HIE-Bridge to Medicare via Noridian, a Medicare contractor, over the Nationwide Health Information Network using the CORE Phase II Connectivity Rule.
